Look inside for the Sports Preview

Fall sports is once again upon us and the first annual Weiser Signal American Sports Preview special section is here.

The section is located within this paper and can be easily identified by the cover photo of Weiser High School quarterback Brett Spencer clad in his red game jersey.

Inside you will find information on fall sports at WHS, including football, boys and girls soccer, volleyball and cross-country. It also includes stories on the Tri-Valley Titans sports cooperative consisting of Cambridge and Midvale High Schools. Included is information on the combined football team and the Cambridge volleyball team.

There is team analysis and engaging photos. Enjoy!

Bikers raise $8,500 for family of missing Fruitland boy

by Philip A. Janquart

In an effort to provide support to the family of a 5-year-old missing Fruitland boy, the Treasure Valley Long Riders, a valley-wide motorcycle group, held a fundraiser on Saturday, Aug. 21 dubbed the "Bring Monkey Home Poker Ride."

The event attracted motorcycle enthusiasts from across the area who wanted to help the Vaughan family in any way they could.

"We have two young kids, too," said Jake Manchester, during a live band performance by "Chaz" at Legends on Main in Weiser, the end point for a ride that consisted of over 100 motorcycles escorted by police in Caldwell, Homedale, New Plymouth, Fruitland, and Weiser.

"We are just trying to help and this is really the only thing we can do," said Manchester who took part in the ride. "It's hard to even imagine what they are going through."

The cost was $20 per person to register for the ride and there was a silent and live auction at Legends where items, such as floor seats for the Sept.

Kids get ice cream deal at Weiser Classic Candy

by Philip A. Janquart

For many kids, there is a sense of urgency to enjoy the last days of summer freedom and fun before heading back to the classroom.

On Thursday, Aug. 19, Patrick Nauman, owner of Weiser Classic Candy gave school kids one last bit of sweet delight, providing soft serve ice cream for only 50 cents per cone.

A number of kids took advantage of the special offer.

There wasn't much conversation, however, for a group of boys who sat around a table, concentrating on licking their ice cream down to little hills before crunching into their cones.

Jonathan and Ethan Sprinkel, 10 and 8; and Jesse and Jedidiah Davis, 15 and 13, took some time out of the sun to visit the shop.

"Yeah, it's pretty cool, said Ethan Sprinkel, not even pausing to look up as he slurped down his treat.

Jamie Brown, of Sand Hollow, sat at another table with her mother, Maralyn

Mitchell, and aunt, Sherri Johns, both of Oregon. Brown was with seven-month-old daughter Xaelyn Brown who had yet to taste ice cream in her short life.

"That's about the cutest thing I've ever seen," said Mitchell, as the baby, seemingly triggered by some natural instinct, lunged and reached out for the ice cream. It was only a couple seconds before the white soft serve was all over the place.

"Well, we knew that would happen, didn't we," Mitchell said chuckling.

WMH stands by employee vaccine policy

by Philip A. Janquart

Hospitals across the Treasure Valley have adopted a policy that mandates employees receive vaccinations or face termination.

Take a Stand Now is a grassroots organization that is fighting that policy, moving to prevent any organization or company that "imposes any course of action that infringes upon the rights of individuals' liberty and bodily autonomy," according to its website at www.takeastandnow.org.

In a recent press release, Take a Stand Now organizer Victoria Stump announced her group has sent a cease-and-desist letter to CEOs of St. Alphonsus, St. Luke's and Primary Health, as well as elected leadership regarding vaccine mandates.

The letter expresses the group's intention to seek declaratory and injunctive relief on top of monetary damages "if forced to pursue such remedies."

"Our members have given us clear direction and generous support to begin the legal actions necessary to stop the hospital systems and Primary Health from forcing employees and contractors to either take the vaccine or get fired," according to the press release.

The hospitals' employment mandate is in response to the resurgence of COVID-19 cases and the emerging Delta variant across the country and in Idaho.

According to Southwest District Health data, as of Aug. 23 there have been 927 confirmed cases of COVID in Washington County, with 374 "probable" cases, and 2,229 confirmed cases in Payette County, with another 640 probable cases.

There have been a total of 24 deaths in Washington County and 38 in Payette County.

Idaho Gov. Brad Little recently issued a statement urging Idahoans to receive the COVID-19 vaccination as children return to classes.

Little said 98.9 percent of new COVID cases since Jan. 1 were people not vaccinated and that 98.6 percent of COVID hospitalizations were people not vaccinated.

St. Luke's announced in early July it would require its employees to receive vaccines by September, Dr. Jim Souza citing an increase among employees calling in sick.

Weiser School District welcomes new employees

by Nicole Miller

Each year a few Weiser School District teachers move on to new adventures. Whether it be through retirement or through finding other jobs and relocating, there's always a few spots to fill with new faces.

While some of the new staff are familiar faces others are brand new to the district and town. This year Weiser school district is welcoming several new staff members and returning staff members to new positions for the 2021-2022 school year.

Pioneer Elementary School will be led by a new principal. Sarah Hatfield is originally from Ontario, so the position in Weiser brings her and her daughter closer to home and family.

Hatfield earned her bachelor's degree from Eastern Oregon and her Master's and Doctorate degrees from NNU. Most recently Hatfield spent the last seven years as the superintendent of the Craigmont School District.

Hatfield said that she is loving Weiser already. She has enjoyed getting to know some of the staff, and is looking forward to being in the principal position where she will be able to see kids every day.

Pioneer Elementary School also welcomes new kindergarten teacher, Stephanie Hicks. Hicks is from Weiser, with her husband teaching at Weiser High School. She has several years of experience in education in a variety of positions. She is looking forward to being a part of the Pioneer staff.

In the first grade, Andrea Gordon has officially joined the Pioneer staff. Gordon began her career in Weiser as a substitute teacher, but ended up loving it. She spent the end of the year working as a long term substitute in the first grade classroom, so she gained valuable experience in her new position already.

Joining the second grade team will be Theresa Chandler. Chandler is originally from Weiser, and returned to Weiser several years ago. Most recently, Chandler worked in the Fruitland School District. She is very excited to be part of the Pioneer school staff.

Joining the third grade team, Brianna Stahly-Hale is a Teach for America staff member originally from Oregon and a graduate of George Fox University. Stahly-Hale is new to Weiser and is looking forward to getting to know the town.

Along with the several new staff members, Pioneer will also see several familiar faces in new positions. Danielle Hunt will take on the position of reading specialist, and several teachers will be teaching new grade levels.

Park Intermediate School will only have one new teacher, Kyle Heller, who will be joining the fifth grade team. Heller is originally from the Tacoma, Wash. area, and also joins the Weiser staff through the Teach for America program.

Weiser Middle School will welcome new Principal, Kenneth Dewlen. Dewlen spent the majority of his career in the military. He spent 25 years in service to our country: 11 in the Army and 14 in the Air Force. While in the service, Dewlen was a Bradley Tank Commander, PATRIOT Missile Officer, Quality of Life Director, and was selected to be a commander three times. He retired with the rank of Lt. Colonel. Since his military retirement, Dewlen has been a teacher at the middle school level, high school level, and in the alternative education arena and also working as a college adjunct professor.

Dewlen shared that he loves to lead and is very excited to utilize his extensive leadership experience in this new capacity as he has always wanted to be an administrator and lead students in a middle school. Dewlen has already met the middle school staff and spent a large portion of the summer working in the building and preparing for the school year.

Along with the new principal, the middle school will see a few long time Weiser School District employees in new positions. Melissa Reed and Rhonda Courtois have both moved from third grade at Pioneer to sixth grade positions at the middle school. Courtney Thompson will also join the staff as a teacher after having worked as the middle school secretary for several years. Thompson also worked at Park Intermediate School last semester teaching fourth grade.

Weiser High School will welcome three new teachers this year. Mandi Hessing will be teaching math at Weiser High School. Hessing moved to Weiser with her family two years ago and has spent the last two years working as a substitute for the district, but comes to Weiser with 16 years of teaching experience. Miranda Stansbery will teach art and yearbook. Stansbery is from Fruitland and very excited to be part of the WHS staff.

Also joining Weiser School District, is Wendy Clark as the lead teacher at Indianhead Academy. Clark has been working with the Ontario School District for several years. She lives close to Weiser on the Oregon side and shared that she has wanted to be in Weiser for some time.

Winter coat drive slated for August and October

by Philip A. Janquart

For decades, members of Weiser's church communities have been holding annual coat drives to help keep the area's less fortunate warm during the fall and winter months.

Usually the drive, which happens through Love, INC (In the Name of Christ) of Washington County, occurs in October.

This year, Dorothy Evans, who has taken over the project from long time organizer Niki Davies, is holding two separate drives.

The first is scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 28 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. on the lawn at St. Agnes Catholic Church. Volunteers will be giving away hoodies and light coats in preparation for fall weather.

The second will also be held at St. Agnes, but will be a winter coat giveaway scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 30.

Love, INC is an independent, 501 (c) (3) non-profit governed by a board of directors and consists of a partnership of 18 local Christian churches that aim to serve the community and its needs.

The organization serves Washington County, including Council, and Annex, Ore.

Visit www.loveincwashingtoncounty.org for more details.

"We collect coats all year long," Evans said. "We have a storage locker that is paid for by one of the other churches. At the moment, we seem to have lots of winter coats, but we are short hoodies and lightweight coats, especially from 0- to 4-year-olds, and also with coats for the same age group. I think it's very important that we make sure everyone is warm this winter."

All coats and hoodies are clean, Evans taking special care to wash them before giving them away.

She said that many of the coats donated are from area schools.

"Amazingly, we get a lot of our hoodies and coats from the lost and founds," Evans explained. "Once the school year is over, they call us and we get bags and bags."

Evans added that anyone needing coats can still get them through the year.

For more information, call Dorothy Evans at (208) 549-5589.

The Weiser High School Marching Band and Colorguard held their band camp the end of July to prepare for the upcoming competitive season. Due to COVID last year they were unable to perform. The students are excited to get back out on the field and playing music from Star Wars. The band's first performance will be held during halftime of the Weiser vs Emmett football game on Sept. 3.

Marching band is preparing for upcoming competitions

Colorguard and band are excited to play music from Star Wars
by Nicole Miller

After a year of cancelled competitions due to COVID restrictions, the Weiser High School Proud Sound and Colorguard is preparing for their upcoming competitive marching band season.

The preparations began with a week of band camp from July 26-30, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Around 50 students attended the camp. In order to continue to prepare for the upcoming season, the students are currently practicing on Monday evenings.

With the pandemic shutting things down last year, the big focus throughout camp was getting back to the fundamentals with a lot of kids who haven't marched before.

"Thankfully we've got a super positive group of musicians that is a lot of fun to work with," Fortin said.

The students worked really hard through the camp and made huge improvements at each rehearsal.

The theme for the marching band show this year is Star Wars. Most of the music comes from the new trilogy (Episodes VII-IX), but fans of the original trilogy will hear older themes as well.

Fortin shared that each spring, he usually just has an idea for the theme.

This year was no different, Star Wars would just pop into his head while driving to or from school and he thought "Oh, we should do that next year!"

The drum majors for this competitive season are Jose Flores and Jayden Anderson. There will also be several featured soloists, but the band is still in the process of auditioning and learning the music, so the soloists have not all been decided at this point. Anna Field has earned one of the solos thus far.

This will be Fortin's tenth year as the band instructor. Joining him this year is the new colorguard instructor, Dorothy Milligan. Milligan was in colorguard her senior year at Weiser High School, and she has helped out for three seasons after graduating.

The marching competitions will be in Caldwell, Kuna, Parma, and the biggest competition, District III at Boise State University. Some of the dates are still to be decided. Fortin shared that the band is very excited to be able to compete again.

"It's really good just to get back on the field and do the best we can. If we work hard and take care of things on our end, we never worry about the competitive side of things and let them fall where they may," Fortin said.

Brushing Technique

I think everyone knows that they should brush their teeth two times a day, but I worry that people are not using the correct technique to properly remove plaque. I think most people use what I call the scrubbing technique. With the scrubbing technique most people focus on the biting surface of their back teeth and then they do a cheese smile in the mirror and clean their front teeth.

The technique that I recommend using is called the Modified Bass technique. This technique focuses on the sides of the teeth and should be done with light pressure. The bristles of the brush should be placed next to the teeth at a 45 degree angle. The brush should gently be moved back and forth just slightly for a few seconds and then the brush should be swept to the tips of the teeth. This technique should be used on the inside and outside surfaces of the teeth. It will take some time to master this technique, but it does a great job at removing plaque that likes to accumulate near the gum line.

If you are having trouble visualizing this technique or if you have questions about it please stop by! We would love to help!

If you have a topic for an article send us an email at dilledental@gmail.com, or better yet, stop in at our office. We love to talk about teeth and we will be happy to answer your question(s) in future columns.

OPINION

FROM THE MAYOR'S DESK

Take-off and landing contest to be held at Weiser's Municipal Airport

This last Saturday, I met with our grandkids, and their dog to hike on the Weiser River Trail. From the parking lot we walked a couple of miles and then turned around. With a 3- and a 6-year-old, that was about far enough.

The weather was beautiful. The temperature was just right with a slight breeze. It was a great morning for a hike, good conversation, and entertainment provided by the kids.

By the way, if you don't have plans for this weekend, or even if you do, there is an event going on out at the airport that might be interesting. About 25 to 30 pilots have signed up for a short take-off and landing contest. I am told that the contest will be comparable to bracket racing with cars.

The planes will take-off, fly slowly for about 1,000 feet, then land in a 100-foot space marked on the runway. The pilot will estimate the time to complete these maneuvers and will be "racing" with himself.

Friday will have the pilots timing and testing themselves to have a basis for their time estimate for the contest. The actual contest will take place on Saturday starting at about noon.

There will be a gate charge during the contest of $10 for adults, $5 for seniors, and children under 12 free.

Mayor Randy Hibberd

This will, hopefully, become an annual event in Weiser and build each year. So, come on out to the airport. If you have never been there, you will be surprised at what a gem of an airport we have right here (or just outside) of Weiser.

In COVID news this week, Washington County has had another 26 new cases for the past week; 45 over the past two weeks. To give some perspective on how quickly these cases are coming on, from April 1, 2021 through August 6, there were 45 cumulative cases. In other words, it took 128 days to accumulate the prior 45 cases and 14 days for the last 45.

The Southwest District Health Department is saying that the majority of cases are of the Delta variety.

The reason this latest surge is taking place so quickly has to do with how easily the Delta variant spreads. The CDC states that with the seasonal flu one person will spread the virus to an average of about 1.3 people. A person with the original coronavirus would spread it to about 2.5 people. This Delta variant is being spread from one person to about five or more. This is why, even though 42 percent of Washington County is vaccinated, the virus is spreading quickly, especially since there are no restrictions on group gatherings – and masks are nearly non-existent.

No one wants to see us go back to group size restrictions, mask requirements, or sheltering-in-place again. I think it is safe to say, we have all been enjoying the ability to live normal lives.

However, the medical system is again feeling the strain from the increase in COVID-19 cases. The only way to keep the number of cases under control, other than through restrictions, is to get vaccinated.

Yes, even vaccinated people have been contracting the virus. However, in our health district, the latest information shows that only six of the last 544 hospitalizations were vaccinated. Only one of the last 161 deaths, was vaccinated. It is safe to say you are much less likely to have serious problems from the virus if you are vaccinated.

The vaccine, which is made of an inert protein from the virus, not the virus itself, builds up the body's defenses to recognize that protein. So, when the virus enters the body, the body recognizes the protein and already has a defense rather than having to build the defense from scratch.

So, for yourself and the sake of others, the way to get past this nasty bug and put it to bed is to get yourself vaccinated if you have not already done so.

Well, that's it for this week. I hope you are getting out and enjoying this wonderful cooler weather and please get vaccinated if you have not already done so.

Vaccine is our best shot at keeping kids in school

Idaho students are back to their classrooms – a welcome transition for students and families across our state.

Our main defense in ensuring the new school year is entirely in-person – free from outbreaks and quarantines – is the COVID-19 vaccine.

The highly contagious Delta variant is circulating in our communities and hospitals are filling up again with COVID patients. This time, though, the patients are almost entirely unvaccinated people.

Our students need to be able to learn in their classrooms with their teachers and peers. We can give our kids the best chance at a normal school year if more Idahoans choose to receive the vaccine.

Just over half of Idaho's adult population is vaccinated, with the greatest share of those vaccinated over the age of 65. I want to thank the close to 800,000 Idahoans for choosing to protect yourselves, your loved ones, our economy, and our students by making that choice.

I understand there are many who simply will not receive the vaccine under any circumstances, but there are also a lot of others who are on the fence about receiving the vaccine.

To those friends and neighbors of ours waiting to receive the vaccine, the time to get the vaccine is now – when our students are going back to school.

We can minimize or eliminate disruptions in the delivery of education, as well as sports and extracurricular activities during this school year, if more Idahoans choose to get vaccinated.

Our younger population – children under age 12 – cannot receive the vaccine, and they need us – the adults – to make the right decision now so they can stay well and have a productive, successful school year.

Parents of 12- to 17-year-olds are also encouraged to have your children vaccinated. Your child's pediatrician can help if you have questions about the vaccine.

Two hundred million Americans have received the vaccine safely. The risk of death or serious injury is extremely low. By comparison, the risk of death or hospitalization from the COVID-19 disease is much, much higher, and it's growing.

While dysfunction persists in the Biden White House at the national level – with failed approaches on the border crisis, Afghanistan, and the pandemic – Idahoans here at home can control what happens in our schools and our communities by choosing to receive the vaccine and giving students our best shot at keeping them in school.

Now is the time to choose to receive the vaccine!

Your Faith

Searching for cell service

Church of the Redeemer

In the Body of Christ, no member is a finger, toe or even solitary hair. More like a single cell, that knows no gender or race. By grace through faith we are re-born into a life of service for which each cell has been perfectly created. Together, with every other cell, we keep the whole Body alive and thriving to present "God with us - Emmanuel" to all the world dying for lack of Him.

Each must focus on our specific job, made known to us by the Creator Himself. Mindful that nothing in its entirety depends on us individually, we work collectively in unison so, as one, we lift Christ up in glory fulfilling His command to make disciples of all the nations. Remembering, as we do, Christ will be with us always, even until the end of the age.

A cell, attempting to serve the Body in a way not divinely intended, is unhealthy and can quickly become the source of dis-ease. When dis-ease lurks anywhere, the whole Body is affected. Rendered ineffective at some level hindering its ultimate purpose in preserving life.

To prevent dis-ease, we do well to put tunnel vision glasses on to get our eyes off the world. Allowing, instead, our entire line of vision to be consumed with Christ, His Body, and our service to it in keeping it alive and thriving. If we do, the rest will take care of itself. The results, after all, are in God's care to work all things together for His good and perfect purposes.

Remember, too, each cell has an appointed time of service to the Body. When its time has ended, and forever absorbed back into the Body, a new "disciple" cell is called into service to take over and the Body lives on! - Jody R. Goode, redemerweiser@gmail.com.

1 Corinthians 12:27 (NASB) - For even as the body is one and yet has many members, and all the members of the body, though they are many, are one body, so also is Christ. For by one Spirit we were all baptized into one body, whether Jews or Greeks, whether slaves or free, and we were all made to drink of one Spirit.

Matthew 28:19-20 (NASB) - Go therefore and make disciples of all the nations, ... and lo, I am with you always, even to the end of the age."

Overcoming man's greatest fear

Riverside Baptist

Earnest Becker identified our greatest fear. He writes in The Denial of Death that, "the fear of death haunts the human animal like nothing else; it is the mainspring of human activity - activity designed largely to avoid the fatality of death, to overcome it by denying in some way that it is the final destiny of man."

We see the fear and the denial of death all around us. No one likes to think about death. We sanitize it and avoid its existence. Yet we live in overwhelming fear of death, whether it is COVID or something else. We all fear death.

Jesus has an answer for the bondage of the fear of death. Jesus says that whoever believes in him will never taste death. Jesus is the one who is God himself. He has the authority to judge life and death. He died on the cross to overcome the power of sin and death. He gives eternal life for all who believe. Jesus sets us free from the fear of death. John Piper proclaims, "The world desperately needs the courage and the Christ of fearless Christians who know they will never taste death." May you be one that walks in that courage!

"Yet I do not seek my own glory; there is One who seeks it, and he is the judge. Truly, truly, I say to you, if anyone keeps my word, he will never see death. Jesus said to them, "Truly, truly, I say to you, before Abraham was, I am." (John 8:50-51, 58, ESV)

I invite you to join us this Sunday. All are welcome!

Just something to think about

This is a test!
Which of the following is a verse from the Bible?

God helps those that help themselves.

Do to others as you would have them do to you.

Cleanliness is next to Godliness.

If you chose the Golden Rule that starts, "Do unto others", you aced the test.

It is amazing to me the folks that consider the other scriptures as gospel. They are good sayings, but that is what they are...sayings.

So, your assignment for this week is to find out where this verse is located in the Bible.

Here is a clue. Jesus said it. Another clue...it was written in two different books in the Bible...Matthew and Luke.

Just something to think about.

C. Shaw

Sunday schools enrich lives

St. Luke's Episcopal by Carolyn Wesner

The early Christians didn't have religious schools for their children. In fact, there was no public education for anybody: no back-to-school shopping, no lists of supplies for parents, no on-line clothing or shoe orders, nothing.

In ancient Hebrew society, young men of well-to-do families might have access to "schools of the prophets" where they studied oral traditions and the books of law under the few teachers who were able to read and write. Otherwise, everyone pretty much worked to support the family.

Jesus was most likely taught at home and by the local rabbi. He was a quick study and by the time he was 12 years old, he could ask/answer technical questions about the Hebrew Scriptures.

Later on through the Middle Ages, private schools were established for wealthy upper-class boys.

Fast forward to the 18th century: leading Christians wanted children to have basic and religious instruction, so the "Sunday" school movement began in mid-1700s England. The purpose was "to teach the youngsters reading, writing, cyphering (doing arithmetic) and a knowledge of the Bible." Sunday was often the only day available, as these little kiddoes were working six days a week in factories, farms or as servants.

However, Sunday Schools opened to everyone, adults included. Before tax-funded public schools came along a few decades later, this was the best way for poor/middle income families to learn the basics: the three "R's" plus non-denominational religious instruction. It was free to participants, funded by donations.

As regular public education was established, churches continued Sunday Schools for the children and adults of their own groups, as we have today. Anglicans, Methodists, and Baptists led the way, and the tradition continues within many local congregations. Visit their programs, or check out on-line resources to find what's right for your children: it will enrich their lives.

Everyone is welcome at St. Luke's Episcopal Church for 10 a.m. service, and please join us for the newly open coffee fellowship hour afterwards.

Essential tips for caregiver safety

by Michelle Merrick, RN, BSN

Caregivers who work with older adults or in personal care facilities must always take their own health and safety into consideration. A caregiver is no good to those they serve if they are unwell or injured.

Loving family members providing essential care to those in need place themselves at risk for accidents, depression, and illness. Research shows caregivers have an increased rate of depression, higher stress levels, poor physical and mental health, increased rates of heart disease, and place themselves at greater risk of harm within the home.

Caregivers play an integral role in the wellbeing of others. To be most effective in this role, the physical and mental health of caregivers must take priority.

Studies consistently show those who provide long term care to another suffer from depression between 40 to 70 percent of the time. Caregiving is a difficult and taxing role. Twenty-six percent of caregivers report being a caregiver is emotionally difficult for them.

Caregiving is associated with lower levels of self-esteem, constant worry, sadness, and uncertainty. Those who experience chronic stress and depression are at a higher risk of cognitive decline and even suicide. In order to combat these issues, mental and physical health must be addressed and treated as needed.

Stress can be managed by taking a break when able. Allow others to help when it is offered and available. Learn yoga or meditation. Getting at least 30 minutes of exercise daily is important for overall physical health. Even if it is just a walk around the block to get the heart rate up, those 30 minutes are very important. A strong core body will ensure a person's back is less likely to be injured while performing cares for another person. Having a hobby to allow for personal time after cares have been completed will allow for a caregiver to unwind and disconnect.

Being a caregiver creates intense physical strain. Caregivers have an increased rate of acid reflux, headaches, joint pain, and a diminished immune response. Women who spend more than nine hours a week caring for another person are twice as likely to suffer from heart disease.

Combating this starts with practicing safe lifting techniques, limiting work hours, eating well, and exercising. Always be sure to position for safety. Lift with the knees and not with the back. If a twinge of pain is felt, back off and reposition. Do not lift more than what is safe. Use the buddy system. Learn how to use lift devices and appropriate durable medical equipment to keep the loved one and the caregiver safe.

Sometimes a loved one may have an illness which requires a caregiver to use appropriate personal protective equipment. Preventing the spread of infection may include good handwashing, gloves, masks, gowns, or other protective gear.

Always be aware of whatever hazards may be present in a home. Weapons, fall risks, slippery areas, pets, anything which may present an opportunity for injury should be evaluated often. A caregiver should know where all exits are, locate any fire extinguishers, know where the local emergency services are located and how to contact all family members and medical personnel.

Caregiver health, safety, and wellness must be the priority. Without the caregiver, the needs of others cannot be met. "Rest and self-care are so important. When you take time to replenish your spirit, it allows you to serve others from the overflow. You cannot serve from an empty vessel." – Eleanor Brown

Car hits elk on U.S. Highway 95

A 2018 Mazda 3, 4-door car hit an elk just south of the rest stop on Highway 95, on Monday, Aug. 23 at approximately 5:19 a.m.

The driver of the car, Blake Jones, told Washington County Sheriff's deputy Sam Edwards that he was southbound enroute to work and the bull elk walked out onto the highway. Due to the early morning darkness Jones was unable to avoid hitting the animal.

The vehicle ended up in the ditch on the south bound side of the road facing south. There was extensive damage to the vehicle and the elk was deceased on the northbound side of the road.

Jones was treated by the Midvale ambulance for minor injuries.

STATE TIMBER SALE
 CR500227, EAST PINE SALVAGE

A public oral auction will be conducted at the Idaho Department of Lands office, 555 Deinhard Lane, McCall, ID 83638, at 10:00 am local time, on Thursday, September 2, 2021 for an estimated 2,020 MBF of timber marked or otherwise designated for cutting. In addition, there is an unestimated volume of forest products that may be removed at the option of the purchaser. Prior to bidding, eligible bidders shall present a certified check or bank draft payable to Treasurer, State of Idaho, or a bid bond acceptable to the State, in the amount of $17,169.40 which is 10% of the appraised net sale value of $171,694.00. The successful bidder's deposit will be forfeited to the State should the bidder fail to complete the contract. The State will not accept bids from parties who are delinquent on payments on existing state contracts. The average starting minimum bid price is $123.10 per MBF.

The sale is located within Section 36, Township 16N, Range 04W, B.M., Washington County, State of Idaho. Sale duration is 3 years. The sale may include blowdown and/or insect and disease infected timber which may result in additional volume and recovery reductions. Interested purchasers should carefully examine the sale and make their own estimates as to volume recovery, surface conditions, and proposed construction prior to bidding on the sale. Additional information concerning the timber and conditions of sale is available to the public and interested bidders on the department's timber sale website at <http://web.idl.idaho.gov/timbersale/Search.aspx> or from the Idaho Department of Lands office, McCall, Idaho.

Please note purchaser insurance requirements posted on the timber sale website.

The Department of Lands, as authorized by the State Board of Land Commissioners reserves the right to reject any and all bids provided that good and sufficient grounds for rejecting the bid shall be stated in the rejection notice and shall not be in violation of applicable law.

If you are disabled and need some form of accommodation, please call (208) 634-7125 five days prior to the date of sale. For text telephone services, please call 1-800-377-3529. 33-2S
