School board makes decision to have students return to school on Wednesday

The Cambridge School District closed its doors on Monday and Tuesday after only 2½ days in session after a staff member tested positive for COVID-19.

The school board met on Monday evening and made the decision to reopen school on Wednesday. Staff and students will follow safety protocols that were in place for the first day of school.

Classrooms opened for the new school year on Aug. 25 with an early dismissal on Tuesday at 1 p.m. and two full days on Wednesday and Thursday.

Due to a positive COVID-19 case Superintendent Anthony Butler made the decision on Sunday to not have students return this week.

“The district is just holding fast, safety and education are our priorities here and we are doing everything we can to educate the students,” said Butler. “Our goal is to keep the majority of students in school the majority of the time and we are really trying to stick to that. We will get open as soon as it is safe.”

Cambridge School District levy passes

Voters approved a two year supplemental levy for the Cambridge School District on Tuesday, Aug. 25. The levy passed with 175 yes votes and 99 no votes for a 64 percent voter approval. The levy needed a simple majority to pass.

The supplemental levy is a renewal of a levy that was last approved by voters in May of 2018. Under state law the levy must be approved every two years.

In 2018, the levy amount was $80,000 annually for two years for a total of $160,000.

This year the trustees with the Cambridge School District asked patrons for $100,000 annually for two years for a total of $200,000.

Cambridge Superintendent Anthony Butler said the additional funding was needed due to cutbacks from the state and

Jenaye Grant raises money to help Weiser’s elementary students who are in need

Jenaye Grant has always had a kind heart for the homeless. When she heard that there were some students in the Weiser School District that were homeless she made a decision that she was going to help. She set up a lemonade stand with homemade chocolate chip cookies to raise money. In two days she raised $200 and with the help of her mom she purchased school supplies, backpacks, personal hygiene items and non-perishable food to help students in need. Photo by Sara Lundberg

Weiser student raises funds to help homeless students

Warm, homemade, chocolate chip cookies along with both pink and regular lemonade attracted onlookers to Jenaye Grant’s bake sale outside her house to raise money for the homeless children in the Weiser School District.

On Tuesday, Aug. 18 and Wednesday, Aug. 19, second grader Jenaye Grant set up a stand selling goodies after hearing some news that broke her down to tears.

“When Jenaye heard about the homeless kids in our district, she started crying because it just broke her heart that some people do not have places to live. She has always had a heart for the homeless. Every time we go to Walmart and see the people in the parking lot holding signs, she has to stop and give them some money,” Lindsay Grant, Jenaye’s mother, shared.

Jenaye planned to use every penny raised towards buying school supplies, hygiene products, and snacks for the elementary age students that cannot afford those necessities. At just 7-years-old, Jenaye recognized a strong need this community has and decided to do something to help.

“When I was on the phone with my uncle, aunt, and mom, they mentioned having homeless kids in our district and I just started crying hysterically,” Jenaye explained. “They gave me the idea for this lemonade stand. I told them I wanted all the money to go to the homeless kids in our district, and my mom said, ‘Jenaye, that is so sweet.’ And so that is how this lemonade stand is here right now,” Jenaye continued.

Jenaye had a goal of raising $150. Through the generosity of the community and some extended family members, she was able to exceed this amount with a total of $200.

“My favorite part about selling these cookies and lemonade is that out of all the money, no part of it is reserved for myself. It all goes to those homeless kids,” Jenaye stated.

With this money, Jenaye and her mother

County Planning and Zoning trying to find out how many feedlots are in operation

A dozen letters sent out to CAFOs in county spelling out compliance requirements

by Steve Lyon

Washington County planning and zoning officials are sending letters to a dozen owners of confined animal feeding operations (CAFOs) in the county in an effort to find out how many are still in operation.

County planners are asking the owners of feedlots and CAFOs that are no longer active to comply with county and state laws to prevent losing CAFO designation. They can either declare a CAFO is not in use or have the existing CAFO inspected by the Idaho Department of Agriculture.

There are 25 registered CAFOs in the county, with 13 of those inspected by the ISDA. The other 12 will receive a letter from the county asking the owner to respond within 28 days after receiving the letter. None of the 25 CAFOs in the county has declared non-use.

County officials said they want to know the operational status of CAFOs because they

Obituaries

George Christos Skouras

George Christos Skouras, a longtime resident of Weiser, Idaho, passed away on August 16, 2020 in Boise, Idaho at the age of 88.

George was born on March 20, 1932, in a small village named Pyra in the mountains of Greece to Christos and Georgia (Kalemas) Skouras.

George immigrated to the United States in 1951 and worked on his uncle's farm in Craig, Colo., for 5 years before moving to Weiser, Idaho.

In 1960 he returned to Greece and married his lovely wife, Mary.

Returning to Weiser, he took a job with Chamberlain Chevrolet Garage. He later worked for Hannigan Chevrolet, and then White Motor Company Datsun and Nissan.

Eventually, George branched out on his own and ran an automotive repair business out of his home garage for 25 years. Business was steady and it was always so special to see his loyal customers.

George dearly loved his family and always made sure they took an annual family vacation.

It was quite a sight to see his family of six piled into the Nova going to Colorado, the Oregon Coast, California, Victoria BC, Yellowstone Park, and very special weekend trips to McCall and fishing at Mann Creek Reservoir and Riggins.

Probably the most memorable was the family vacation to Greece. Words can't describe the feeling we had travelling all that distance, thinking about our father leaving Greece with a little bag and a roll of coins, making his way to Colorado – without a cell phone!

He thoroughly enjoyed family outings and playing in the snow with his children and grandchildren. He was fond of cooking a lamb on a spit with some of his Greek friends, like they had done back in the old country.

Always quick to smile he enjoyed helping those in need, especially if the problem involved a vehicle.

Through the years he always had a bountiful garden, a few cattle, sheep, and chickens which provided amusement to the children and grandchildren.

George taught his kids what hard work, dedication, patience, perseverance and most of all about love.

George is survived by his wife Mary (Agrafiotou) Skouras of Weiser, a brother Pete (Tike) of Lamia, Greece; three daughters: Georgia Thorstenson of Herndon, Virginia; Jahna O'Sullivan of Las Vegas, Nev.; and Lana Ellsworth of Boise, Idaho; five grandchildren Kari (Thorstenson) Darsch, Erica Thorstenson, Quinn, Zoe, and Eden O'Sullivan and one great-grandchild Claire Darsch.

He was preceded in death by his parents, sister Koula, brother Gus, and his sons Chris and James.

A graveside service will be held at 2 p.m. at the Hillcrest Cemetery in Weiser, Idaho on Friday, Sept. 25, 2020.

Due to current COVID-19 restrictions, the family asks that all who attend respect social distancing and wear a face mask.

Tributes and condolences can be left with Cloverdale Funeral Home at www.cloverdalefuneralhome.com or may be sent to Mary Skouras at P.O. Box 606, Weiser, Idaho 83672.

In lieu of flowers, any memorial gifts may be given to Saints Constantine and Helen Greek Orthodox Church in Boise, Idaho or to a charity of your choice.

In describing George, many people have used the word – genuine. He was a genuine guy who always used genuine parts!

and married Opal Faye Haynes and her six children on April 2, 1960, and together they had two more children. They had many adventures while raising these kids.

They finally settled in Boise, Idaho, where Steve worked for Trust Joist International. He retired from there in September of 1987.

Steve and Opal traveled for 7 years and together decided to make their forever home in New Plymouth, Idaho.

Steve spent his free time with his family, he loved the outdoors, hunting, fishing and camping. He took pride in teaching his children and grandchildren to hunt and fish, and he's leaving us with memories we won't soon forget.

Steve was so talented, he could create the most beautiful things with his hands...woodwork, gorgeous paintings, quilts and butterflies, just to name a few.

He began recycling as something to pass the time, but it soon became a full time job and something he loved.

He made many friends along the way. The legacy he leaves behind is his humor, his kindness, generosity and his compassion. Steve was the kindest most generous man you ever met, no matter the kind of day you were having he always left you with a smile.

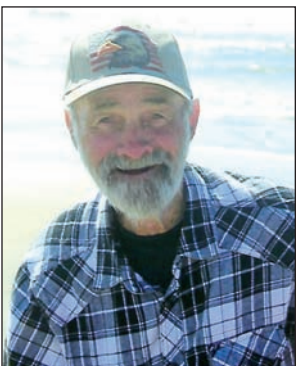

Steve is preceded in death by his parents, his brother, two sisters, his loving wife of 56 years Opal and three sons Gary, Bobby and Larry.

He is survived by his son Calvin Michael, four daughters Linda Esque, Rita Whipple, Sherry Lacock and Lynetta (Rick) Morey, his nephew Clifford Michael, his grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren.

A visitation for family and friends will be held from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 2, 2020, at the Haren-Wood Funeral Chapel in Payette.

Graveside services will be held at Hillcrest Cemetery in Weiser on Thursday, Sept. 3, 2020 at 3 p.m.

Condolences may be sent to the family at www.Haren-Wood.com.

Steven Lee Roy Michael

Steven Lee Roy Michael passed away quietly at his home on Aug. 28, 2020 surrounded by his family and loved ones.

Steven was born in St. Francis, Kansas on April 1, 1937 to Helen and Victor Michael, where he lived only a short time.

His family traveled to Weiser, Idaho, where they resided the rest of his childhood.

Steve joined the U.S. Navy in 1956. He spent the first years at sea on an aircraft carrier where he was a pre-flight mechanic, and the last year stationed in Japan. He was honorably discharged in 1960.

New restaurant opens in Weiser features authentic Mexican cuisine

Mi Amigo is open seven days a week

by Nicole Miller

Owners, Chef Sean Covos and Mary Kramer have opened a Mexican restaurant inside the old Judy's Weiser In building. Both Covos and Kramer have extensive restaurant experience and are proud to bring good authentic Mexican cuisine to the Weiser area.

Both Covos and Kramer grew up in Mountain Home. They were long time friends who even shared their first job together at Arby's.

This last spring by chance, Covos and Kramer were quarantined together and discovered that a childhood friendship could be more. As they started talking about Covos' dream of opening his own restaurant, Kramer had the perfect suggestion.

Kramer had worked as a caregiver in Weiser and one of her client's favorite restaurants had been Judy's Weiser In. Kramer suggested Covos contact Judy Sterling and they all decided pretty quickly that it would be the perfect fit for everyone.

Covos has wanted to be a chef for as long as he can remember. His grandfather had been a chef at a Mexican restaurant and taught him how to cook and he has always loved working with food.

Covos went to culinary art school and then took some advanced training in San Francisco before taking a job with the Hyatt.

While working for the Hyatt, Covos gained extensive experience working at five star restaurants, banquets, and events. He also worked and traveled in a few different locations including Beverly Hills and even Capitol Hill next to the Whitehouse.

While working as a chef, Covos worked closely with a French chef who always called him Mon Amie. It became a nickname and Covos thought it would make a good name for a restaurant. When he decided to open a Mexican restaurant he kept the meaning "my friend" with "Mi Amigo."

Covos' vision for Mi Amigo is to have authentic and good food, but also simple and consistently executable.

The two main inspirations for the food on the menu are direct from his grandfather's recipes. The red chili sauce was the first thing he learned to cook, and living in San Diego he grew to love the taco trucks.

The opening in Weiser has been a challenge. The two shared that they were shocked by the demand for a Mexican restaurant in Weiser. They ran out of food during lunch the first day and almost ran out the second day.

"It's been keeping me up at night," Covos said. "I hope people are understanding as we get all the kinks worked out and continue to support us. We really want to make Weiser home for a long time."

Kramer has also worked in a variety of restaurants as a hostess and waitress and several other jobs so she will be managing the front end and working out front while the chef works his magic in the back. She will also be going back to school studying holistic medicine and hopes to be able to run her own business in the future as well.

They also have a little extra help from a familiar face as they get started. Sterling is helping them learn the ropes of running a successful restaurant in Weiser for the first few weeks and even shared her very special and famous recipe that is a favorite for everyone, her creamy shrimp and rice soup.

While the menu is small to start the couple plans to add more specials to the menu over time including enchiladas, tamales, menudo and even a salad bar.

Mi Amigo is currently open seven days a week., Monday through Saturday, 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Gloves and Dentistry

It is hard for me to imagine, but there was a time when dentists didn't wear gloves. And when they started wearing them they would only be worn for surgical procedures, where the doctor would come in contact with the patient's blood. The staff, including the assistants and hygienist, didn't start to wear gloves until a few years after the doctors started.

What changed and when? It's hard to put an exact date on it because some dentists were quicker to make the change than others, but if you had to pick a year it would be 1981. In the early 80's there was a lot of fear about a virus that later became known as

HIV. At the time, there were other infectious diseases that they did know about, but those didn't worry the dentists enough to protect themselves.

At that time there was a major social stigma attached to HIV/AIDS. Much wasn't known about the virus and everyone was scared of contracting it. Sometimes it does take fear to motivate us to do the right thing. The wearing of gloves needed to become routine to protect the dental professional and the public.

If you have a topic for an article send us an email at dilledental@gmail.com, or better yet, stop in at our office. We love to talk about teeth and we will be happy to answer your question(s) in future columns.

OPINION

FROM THE MAYOR'S DESK

Lightning causes underground electrical line to fail

That was quite the storm last week. In speaking to people, very few were able to sleep through it. Mother Nature can put on an amazing show when she wants to. I was surprised and thankful that the storm didn't cause any major fires in the state.

The storm's lightning did cause a couple of fires locally. There was one on Jenkins Creek. I'm told that when the Rural Fire Dept. arrived the rain had already put it out.

There was another one east of Midvale that the Midvale Fire Department was able to control.

Here in the city, it appears that the storm caused a primary underground electrical line, that provided power to several downtown businesses located around Washington Square, to fail. The line had been buried directly in the ground decades ago without any sheathing, leaving it unprotected. The power surges from the storm apparently became too much for the line and it failed, leaving the Golden Horse, Elemental Wellness, RC Pawn, Artful Bon's, Carl Glarborg CPA, Casey Girl Designs, and Pepper's to be without power.

The various departments jumped right on it. Mike Campbell, the public works manager, coordinated the effort.

First, all of the underground services for water, waste water, telephone, optics, etc. had to be located to avoid cutting lines. Once this was completed, the electrical department, consisting of Wayne Wallace, Devin Rider, Jason George, and Enoch Ward began digging to uncover the line.

The waste water department sent a couple of guys, Jarret Wright and Robert Hilliard, with the vacuum truck to help uncover the other delicate infrastructure lines that would easily be cut with a backhoe or shovel.

When the line was uncovered, it was found that the line had been spliced before so it was already in a weakened condition.

The old line was then taken out and replaced with new line in a conduit to protect it.

If there is ever a failure with this line in the future, it will be a simple matter of removing it from the conduit and threading a new line in.

They worked hard all day on this. Power was restored to the businesses before 6 p.m. that evening.

Fortunately, there is very little directly buried primary line left in Weiser. There is still secondary direct buried line running to individual residences in town. However, in the event any of these lesser lines fail, the City has equipment to provide temporary power to the house in the event of power line failure until the line can be replaced.

It is situations like this that continually make me realize how fortunate I am, as mayor, to have inherited a finely tuned organization that knows their stuff, works together as a team, and does their jobs without a lot of fuss to provide for the people of Weiser.

They do these types of things day in and day out without a lot of recognition, but with a lot of pride.

Thank you to Mayor Diana Thomas, prior mayors, and David Tate for creating this team that I inherited and have the privilege to work with.

In other business this week, just a reminder that the city has a new RV dump up and running on the corner of W. Idaho and W. 9th Street where the recycling center used to be. It is designed to accommodate traffic from either street and can handle two units at a time.

Also, just a reminder that school is in session. Please watch for kids walking and riding bikes going to and from school. Our children have enough issues to deal with this year without having to worry about inattentive drivers. So please do your part.

If you haven't had a chance, or even if you have, check out the Farmer's Market at the Train Depot every Thursday evening from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. It's well worth it. There are a number of vendors with a wide variety of produce and products for sale.

Well that's it for now. Hope you have a great week in our great community!

Remembering the sacrifices made for our freedom

This year marks the 75th anniversary of the end of World War II. Japan officially signed the instrument of surrender on board the USS Missouri on Sept. 2, 1945.

In commemorating the end of the war the Weiser Signal American is working on a special edition to tell the story of local individuals who fought for our country and what it was like on the home front.

Our archive of newspapers have been a wealth of historical facts. Lisa McKnight and Ken Walston have gleaned through the past newspapers from the beginning of the war in 1941 to the end in August of 1945. Through this publication we will be able to retell the stories of many local soldiers who sacrificed to preserve our freedom during the most destructive war in human history.

The Spirit of '45 is a national day of remembrance to remember America's "greatest generation." The celebration normally takes place the second weekend in August but due to COVID-19 had to be cancelled this year.

It was a generation who sacrificed and were unified in their fight to make a better life for their children and the generations to come.

It has been a privilege to have people share their stories with us and I hope that you too will enjoy this special edition coming soon in this newspaper.

The flower baskets that lined State Street are down for another year. They looked beautiful as they bloomed all summer. Thanks to all the businesses who supported the project that Linda Roundtree started many years ago through VIBE.

Many individuals have volunteered to plant, water and deadhead the petunias throughout the years. This year I had the help of Dan Miller and Keith Bryant to water the baskets. The Weiser High School horticulture class planted the baskets and they kept them in the greenhouse until they were ready to go up. Thanks to Amanda Cheney, Patti Matthews and the students for taking care of them and ensuring we had healthy plants. Thanks to all who waved and told us how nice they looked. I hope you enjoyed them. The colors add so much to our downtown corridor during the summer months.

It was a sad day at the newspaper when we had to say good-bye to Steve Lyon. Steve was the editor for 5½ years. He wrote many, many stories throughout those years. Family matters needed to be taken care of, so a new chapter is beginning in his life. He will be missed.

As many editors have said about Weiser, if you cannot find something to write about you are not looking very hard. There is something always happening in our wonderful town.

Please stay safe and enjoy reading.

Nearly $50 million awarded for broadband projects

Governor Brad Little announced the Idaho Department of Commerce awarded $48.9 million in federal coronavirus relief funds for 102 projects across Idaho that support improved broadband infrastructure, equipment, and services.

The grants help fund broadband connectivity for more than 43,000 underserved households, the majority of which are in rural communities of less than 3,000 residents. Public safety and local government entities received 23 of the 102 grants awarded.

"In the short-term, this investment in broadband connectivity will assist with our ongoing COVID-19 response by supporting student remote learning, telehealth, work-from-home opportunities in more parts of the state, and improved government services," Governor Little said. "In the long-term, we will see better opportunities for economic development in underserved parts of Idaho."

The grant program provides funding resources for broadband infrastructure investment and associated equipment for underserved households, public safety organizations, local governments, and medical clinics and hospital facilities. The priority was to fund projects that serve communities of less than 3,000 persons and/or communities that are unserved with 10 Mbps download and 1 Mbps upload or less speeds.

Idaho Commerce began accepting grant applications on June 29, 2020, and received 137 applications requesting $83 million in grant funding. The applications were then posted for public comment and additional review.

"We appreciate the $50 million in CARES Act funding approved by the Governor's Coronavirus Financial Advisory Committee for new Idaho broadband infrastructure in areas identified by the Governor's Broadband Task Force last year," said Commerce Director Tom Kealey. "These projects will help many rural communities and tens of thousands of households with new high-speed internet service for remote learning, working, local government services and telehealth access."

Church of the Redeemer

If you've ever run grapefruit rinds through the disposal under hot water, then you're aware of the crisp, effervescent punch of citrus aroma that wafts across the kitchen with an indescribable momentary sensory delight.

For this enjoyable aspect of a grapefruit to be drawn out, its rind must first be ground to pulp and spit into the sewer. In its whole form, who would know the wonders lying latent within its thick skin. That sounds strikingly similar to how the effects of life can be on us.

Clichés like "whatever doesn't kill you, makes you stronger," and "when life gives you lemons, make lemonade" come to mind. They speak of endurance and perseverance while facing the trials of life. Of drawing out the best of us lying latent within our thick skin waiting to be unleashed under the fire of trial.

Trials come to test and strengthen our faith. Some so grievous and severe, it causes us to wonder where God is and why He would allow such horror to happen.

When they come, it may feel we have been ground to pulp and spit into the sewer. But under God's loving hand, they can have their perfect way in us. On the other side, having neither drowned nor been burned, we just might find the best part of us emerge as a sweet effervescent faith anchored firmly in the heart of our ever-present God. Igniting a new passion for life with a desire to share it with others suffering under the heavy burden of trial.

With such a faith and the Lord to guide, there is no end to what we can accomplish as we willingly lay down our lives into His care to serve up His compassion in the search and rescue of other souls longing for the Lord's touch – Jody R. Goode, redeemerweiser@gmail.com.

John 16:33 (NASB) - These things I have spoken to you, so that in Me you may have peace. In the world you have tribulation, but take courage; I have overcome the world."

Isaiah 43:2-3 (NASB) - "When you pass through the waters, I will be with you; And through the rivers, they will not overflow you. When you walk through the fire, you will not be scorched, Nor will the flame burn you. "For I am the LORD your God, The Holy One of Israel, your Savior..."

Just something to think about

The first day of the new school year has come and gone. New schedules, new routines, new school clothes for those with children. I like new!

I am beginning a new weight loss program. I have done this before, but it always seems to go better with a team.

God has blessed me with a lot of new things this year. I got a new car, and I have the payments to prove it! I am getting a new home this fall, and other blessings I don't even recall.

What an awesome God we serve!

A few years back, I made a list of the things I wanted to accomplish in my life. As I look at it, I see that God is bringing them to pass.

What blessings is He bringing your way? Maybe you should start a list, too.

Just something to think about.

Respond to the resurrection

Riverside Baptist

Many people have an interest in the Bible, few put it into practice. Felix the Roman governor was curious about Paul's teaching. He had an understanding of and appreciation for the gospel. When Paul stood trial in his court, Felix wanted to hear more.

Felix had a knowledge of the Bible and the gospel but chose to live his life on his own terms. He unjustly and cruelly treated his subjects with barbarous acts of violence. He greedily extorted bribes. Felix indulged in numerous adulterous affairs. He was unaware of the consequences of his sin.

Paul had bad news and good news for Felix. He spoke of the reality of Christ's resurrection. The implications were righteousness, self-control, and coming judgment. This confronted Felix in his sin. The resurrection also offered hope of forgiveness and change.

Through Christ, Felix could rule justly and escape his sinful pursuits and its consequences. Felix put off making a decision for Christ. He told Paul to go away and I will talk with you later.

Many people know about the resurrection but fail to respond to Christ with faith. What is your response to the resurrection?

"After some days Felix came with his wife Drusilla, who was Jewish, and he sent for Paul and heard him speak about faith in Christ Jesus. And as he reasoned about righteousness and self-control and the coming judgment, Felix was alarmed and said, 'Go away for the present. When I get an opportunity I will summon you.'" (Acts 24:24-25, ESV).

We are not all alike

St. Luke's Episcopal by Carolyn Wesner

Sometimes we as humans find it hard to agree on things. Big, important things, or even tiny insignificant things which bug us like a mosquito in the night!

Surely everybody in Weiser thinks the same, right? Or everybody in Idaho? Or everybody living in your house? Or everybody you went to school with in Nyssa in 1968?

You've experienced that we don't think the same, act the same, have the same table manners, politics, or styles of worship at church. Why is that?

Behaviorists believe that we come to conclusions and ideas based on several things: our environment, our education, our genetics, and our experiences. That's why no two people, even in the same family, will think or act or believe exactly the same way.

This presented a problem to Jesus in the first century – how in the world could his message of love for everyone ever be sent around the world, to "every nation, kindred, tribe and people?" He started with his own friends.

Each one of those men and women had different skills. Some could host a church in their homes, some could look after the widows, the elderly and the orphans. Others could speak in public, but some were better one-on-one. A few were willing to travel overseas or across the African deserts with caravans of camels; some stayed home and worked within their towns and governments to be influencers for God's grace.

None of this would work if we were all alike. God needs friends with different skills, methods and personalities, which is why his first memo to believers was "love each other as I have loved you. The world will know my message is true if you love one another. And if you don't demonstrate love for one another, well pal, you're just a clanging gong or a clashing cymbal."

So, celebrate differences and love one another!

St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Weiser will still be closed through September, but listen for the bell Sundays at 11 a.m. or ask to join our Zoom meetings.

Benefit dinner and auction to help the Loudermilk family set for Sept. 12

by Nicole Miller

Washington County Sheriff's Deputy Brendan Loudermilk has been diagnosed with a rare form of Stage 4 Lung Cancer. Brendan and his wife Cora, and their two children Owen and Olivia will be facing the scariest and most difficult battle of their lives.

Loudermilk first began working for the Washington County Sheriff's office eight years ago when he was 20 years old. He is a dedicated deputy and has a reputation for being strong, fair, and putting the needs of others above his own. He has served the community selflessly and diligently, and now is the time for the community to come together to help him.

The efforts in the community to help Loudermilk have already made a huge difference as the people of Weiser have truly shown their kindness and giving hearts through multiple fundraisers.

The first of the fundraisers, a community yard sale, people donated trailers and trailers full of goods for the sale and the group of friends, Scott and Mandy Hoobery, and Don and Nikki Houser, along with their families and other volunteers raised over $17,000 and even more than that, showed Loudermilk that his friends and family and community, were definitely going to be cheering for him and supporting him in any way they could.

The giving and support continued to show itself at the Washington County Fair. Les Schwab won a steer during the livestock auction, and then donated the money and the steer back to re-auction it again. The bidding and re-auctioning continued and the efforts raised around $70,000 which will all go to Brendan and his young family to help ease the burden of the expenses during his battle with cancer. The steer was also donated to the Loudermilk family and Midvale Custom Meats donated the cut and wrap. Several of the youth also donated 20 percent of their livestock sales to the Loudermilk family.

Other community businesses have also shown their support. Shirts featuring the Loudermilk strong logo can be purchased at Idaho Custom Designs. Domino's hosted a day where the evening's sales were donated to the family. Sears Hometown in Ontario has donated all their delivery fees for Weiser sales to the Loudermilk family. The Outdoorsman has sponsored a raffle to win a rifle. Other groups have also donated funds raised during different events and raffles.

This month, Loudermilk's coworkers at the Washington County Sheriff's office are working together to show their support and raise funds through the Brendan Loudermilk Family benefit dinner and auction.

The dinner will feature shoulder tenders donated by Agribeeef, potatoes, salad donated by Weiser Classic Candy, fruit donated by The Market, corn on the cob donated by Haun Packing, and rolls donated by Tiffany's Small Batch Bakery. Riddleys also donated water for the event and others have donated a variety beer and wine that can also be purchased by donation. Lisa Horzen will be preparing the meal.

Organizers for the event are excited for the live auction and silent auction items that have also been donated. Kim Chipman shared that there will truly be something for everyone: a variety of large gift baskets, tires from Les Schwab, a river rafting trip, custom knives, a large custom made fire ring, and even three different rifles. One of the rifles will feature a custom made stock featuring the Loudermilk strong logo.

"The outpouring of donations for the live and silent auction for the dinner has been incredible. We have been swamped with donations. I hope people come out and support the dinner and bid on these great items," Chipman said.

The event will take place Saturday, Sept. 12, 2020 at 6 p.m. at Sunnyside Farms & Events, 1526 Sunnyside Road, Weiser.

Tickets are available at the Washington County Sheriff's Office or can be purchased from any deputy. You can even call the office and have tickets delivered.

Cambridge School District voters renewed a supplemental school levy for $100,000 for two years for a total of $200,000 on Tuesday. The vote passed with 175 voters voting in favor.

Supplemental school levy passes by 64 percent the increased cost of keeping the buildings open.

Revenue collected from the supplemental levy is used for general maintenance and operations. The money helps keep the doors open and pays for some salaries.

The Cambridge School District consists of voters in Washington and Adams counties. The boundaries consist of voters in Midvale, Cambridge and Indian Valley.

There were 7 votes counted in the Midvale precinct with 3 voting in favor of the levy and 4 against. In Cambridge 602 voters turned out at the polls. The total number of registered voters was 608 with 231 ballots cast. The measure won with the support of 153 voters in favor and 78 against. The school district also takes in part of Adams County. Indian Valley had a total of 43 votes cast with 22 in favor and 21 against.

According to the Washington County Clerk's office the total voter turnout was 37.99 percent.

"I am very grateful to the community for approving the levy," said Superintendent Butler.

Cambridge schools will resume on Wednesday and where the district was at in the curriculum being taught at the time. As of Monday, teachers were working on packets to be sent out on Tuesday to secondary students. The plan for the elementary students was to not have contact this week. It was felt the elementary students are not prepared for independent instruction. The teachers have been working real hard to prepare the students to be able to do distance learning but the elementary students need more individual learning instruction to make it a more positive experience.

The board and administration's goal is to be open and be in the buildings as much as possible.

Internet issues and having enough devices is going to be a big struggle that will face the school district if they have to resort to distance learning. They have applied for a Federal CARES Act grant to help provide the resources needed and are waiting to hear from the state if they have received the grant. This year they have had 25 new students register for school, which has also put a strain on resources.

"Internet connection is a real concern," said Butler. The grant will help provide hotspots for families who are in need of internet connection as well as update devices and make sure there are enough devices for everyone.

went shopping. They bought backpacks, nonperishable food items, folders, pencil boxes, brushes, shampoo, soap, deodorant, socks, and underwear.

Jenaye took these items she had purchased to school with her and was able to personally help unpack and organize them. The school will then distribute them to the children in need.

With classes starting up, many kids within the Weiser community are unfortunately unable to afford some of the basic school supplies and personal hygiene products. However, when a 7-year-old girl with a huge heart heard of this, she decided to take action.

Jenaye Grant was able to rally the amazing community of Weiser to raise money for the homeless children in this district, changing their lives for the better.

Weiser's new RV dump located on the corner of West 9th and West Idaho streets is open for business. The city crews put the finishing touches on the site last week. The dumpsite will be open day and night and will provide easy in and easy out service.

New RV dump is ready for the public to use

The City of Weiser's new RV dump is now open. The facility is located at the corner of West Idaho and West 9th Street.

The RV dumpsite is open to the public and is free to use. There is a donation box to help cover expenses.

The RV dump is open day and night and provides easy in and easy out service.

Weiser's former dumpsite was located along U.S. Highway 95 on property that was known as the old

Park Street store and has since closed.

It is a great addition for Weiser residents and to all the travelers passing through.

County looking at revising CAFO ordinance can have an impact on growth and zoning decisions in the county. State law and county code both set minimum distances that a residential development must be from a CAFO.

The county defines CAFOs as a parcel of land that does not grow crops and where there are 500 or more animals housed in one place for 90 days or more in a year. Typically, CAFOs in Idaho are either beef cattle in a feedlot or a dairy, but they can be other animals.

The county's zoning laws seek to head off potential conflicts between CAFOs and residential development in the county. The regulations also were drafted and approved to protect groundwater and surface water in the county from waste runoff. There are parts of the county that the state has determined to be nitrate areas of concern.

The county ordinance is more restrictive than the state regulations when it comes to siting a CAFO. The county ordinance does not allow CAFOs to be permitted within 1.5 miles of an existing residential or commercial subdivision. The state regulations stipulate that CAFOs be no closer to subdivisions than within a one-mile radius.

The county ordinance also works the other way as well by not allowing subdivisions to encroach on existing CAFOs. It states that residential subdivisions proposed after the effective date of the ordinance cannot be located closer than 1.5 miles to any existing CAFO improvements. No new CAFO is allowed under the county ordinance to be located closer than one mile of a city impact area.

County commissioner Kirk Chandler said at a recent commission meeting that even with the zoning law that prevents subdivisions from locating within 1.5 miles of a CAFO, there is still residential growth and encroachment that occurs. He mentioned county zoning laws that allow an original parcel to have four splits and four homes placed on it.

"Having a CAFO doesn't protect you unless you own everything within 1.5 miles," he said.

He said the zoning law that allows four splits on an original parcel led to residential encroachment on the old Sunnyside feedlot south of town. The feedlot was eventually harassed out of businesses by complaining homeowners.

"It was because we allowed all those homes on original parcels," Chandler said.

In 2018, local Farm Bureau officials said the county's ordinance that regulates CAFOs was too restrictive and in need of revisions. Commissioners agreed to look at the county's zoning ordinance that covers CAFOs but no action has been taken.

The county's ordinance on CAFOs was last revised in 2005. Farm Bureau officials said CAFOs should be encouraged to locate in the county, but it is all but impossible to do with the current regulations.

Seniors start up breakfast program on Sept. 5

by Joanne Braden

Just got word that the Weiser Senior and Community Center is going to have a breakfast on Friday, Sept. 5, 2020. Breakfast will be served only one time this month.

The lunches have been picking up and are delicious. Come on down and try us out. We are practicing social distancing, with four to a table, and it is running smoothly.

The center is still doing the meals on wheels, or take out meals, and doing a great job of it. Call 208-414-0750, if you need this service. It can be set up on a regular basis or temporary if you should be shut-in for some reason, like a broken leg, sickness, etc.

Also please remember that the Farmer's to Families food bank comes on the first Wednesday of the month.

On the third Wednesday of the month is the regular Idaho Food Bank. This month it will be on Wednesday, Sept. 16. Call Pastor Mark Burgess at the Weiser Cornerstone church, (208) 549-2103 or (208) 539-5249 if you are a shut-in or sick. Give him the information below and they will get it to you. If you are getting food for another family, please get a note from them, authorizing you to pick theirs up.

A request, to those of you who come early to the food banks: Please do not park and leave your cars to hold your place in line, it slows everything down and the car is in the way, plus you may not get registered! Please stay with the car, or come a bit later. It works pretty fast with the setup they have.

The ladies who do the registering do a terrific job, and it is not comfortable out there in the heat, or nasty weather. They have to go to each car and get the number of families, tag the car, get the addresses, and how many in each family.

The weather can be hot and scalding, wet, freezing, windy or once in awhile a lovely day, like the last food bank. Please give them a thank you, because they all care about you and that's why all of them are out there, because we all care!

Hugs, Joanne.

The first game of the season and the first game since COVID-19 stopped all athletic events in the spring took place on the volleyball court in Tom Falash Gymnasium on Wednesday. Lady Wolverines take on Tri-Valley Titans for season opener

Upper country team comes to town and takes the match in 3 games

by Zane Davis

It has been over 5 months since fans and athletes have been able to participate in any kind of Wolverine athletics, but the drought was brought to an end last week when the Lady Wolverines hosted fellow Washington County athletes, the Tri-Valley Titans, a combination of Cambridge and Midvale High Schools.

The fans were excited to be able to get back into Tom Falash Gymnasium to support the Lady Wolverines, and the grandstands reflected the excitement with full student and community sections.

However, despite a talented group of Lady Wolverines and a deep bench, the Wolverines played a bit out of sorts and were never able to find a consistent rhythm and lost to the Titans in straight sets, 21-25, 17-25 and 19-25.

The first set began with the Titans jumping to an early 3-0 lead, but strong serving by senior, Reagan Doty, enabled the Wolverines to pull ahead 4-3. The Titans and the Wolverines battled for dominance, trading points and side-outs with the Wolverines maintaining a slight lead, to the 8-6 mark.

Strong serving by Titan player, Zoe Ertel, and a lack of communication by the Wolverines, enabled the Titans to go on a 7-0 scoring run and take a commanding 13-8 lead over the struggling Wolverines.

The Wolverines regrouped and battled to stay in the set, pulling within 3-points at 12-15, but it was short lived with the Titans regaining control with Hadley Atnip scoring five consecutive points, jumping ahead 20-12.

Despite the large deficit, the Lady Wolverines kept working hard and Doty was able to keep the Wolverines in the game, scoring 3-points to 15-20.

The Wolverines continued to chip away at the deficit and freshman setter, Danica Lockett served the Wolverines to the 20-22 mark. Unfortunately, a Wolverine hitting error and a tip kill of an overfed pass by the Titans ended the set 21-25 in favor of Tri-Valley.

The Wolverines came out in the second set very strong, with two kills by Emma Tolman, a kill from the back row by Macey Buescher and tip kills by both Ivy Morris and Jasi Yraguen, taking the lead 5-4.

Unfortunately, the Wolverine communication fell apart and the play on the Weiser side became very messy. Head coach, Lindsay Grant called a time-out at 6-7 to discuss matters with her squad, but it was to no avail and the Wolverines continued to slip further behind.

Trailing 6-12, Buescher had a kill from the back row and Doty strategically placed a tip that the Titans were unable to return. Sophomore, Mattie Shirts added 3-points for the Wolverines, one of which was an ace, pulling the Wolverines to within 3-points at 10-13, but a series of unanswered kills by the Titans stopped the Wolverine comeback until a kill by sophomore, Tobie Noyer, put the ball back into the Wolverines' hands.

Trailing 13-20, Buescher recorded another kill from the back row and Tolman also added a kill, but the Titans were simply too far ahead for the Wolverines to regain the lead and lost the second set, 17-25.

Staring at the prospect of a potential sweep, the Wolverines really needed to get a third set win to stay in the match. However, from the very start, the Wolverines struggled with bad passes, communication errors, setting troubles and service errors. In short order the Wolverines found themselves trailing 2-13.

A pair of kills by Doty seemed to add some fire back into the Wolverine side of the net and what seemed like an insurmountable scoring difference soon became a bit more attainable once Shirts stepped back behind the service line.

Shirts began serving and recorded two aces and a pair of kills by Doty allowed Shirts to serve for six consecutive points, bringing the score to a more manageable 12-17. The Wolverines kept working to stay in the set, but numerous errors gave the set to the Titans 25-19 and the match 3-0.

The Lady Wolverine junior varsity team was able to come away with the win in their pairing against the Tri-Valley Titans, winning 25-17 and 25-13 in straight sets.

The Lady Wolverines traveled to the home of the Nampa Christian Trojans last week for their second match of the 2020 season.

Following a disappointing home outing against the Tri-Valley Titans, the Wolverines were really looking for a win, but came up short, losing in four sets 25-19, 14-25, 23-25 and 21-25.

Weiser girls soccer team plays strong game against 4A Emmett

by Nicole Miller and Kimberly King

On Thursday, Aug. 28, the Weiser Wolverine girls soccer team opened with their first home game of the season against the Emmett Huskies. The girls started the season tough facing the strong 4A team for their first game. The teams played tough with the JV taking the victory 3-1 but the varsity ended just short of a victory with the final score of Weiser 2 and Emmett 3.

Coach Bernie Weldon was really pleased with how the girls played in both games. Especially, considering the obstacles to practicing as a team this summer and fall. Weldon said that he felt that the girls showed up strong for the season opener.

Although there has been a cloud of apprehension hanging over the season as they are never certain how long the season will last, the team came out and played with great attitudes and tremendous effort.

Weldon shared that since the team had 11 seniors graduate last year, Weiser has a lot of young players in the program, and a lot of players in different positions this year.

There were several student athletes who played their first high school game and some their first soccer game ever. Weldon shared that many of them started the game as nervous players, but they quickly overcame their fears and played confident soccer.

In addition to many players playing new positions this year, the team faced a few more struggles during the second half with several players struggling with muscle cramps. The team had to sub players into positions that were new to them.

"In our program, we emphasize a "can do" mentality, and I was very proud of our team doing this in both games!"

Macy Maloney scored the first goal of the varsity game with a top corner goal. Emmett kept the pressure on and scored three more quick goals. The Lady Wolverines battled back with a strong teamwork run against the Huskie defenders with Brooklyn Warner getting a shot just past the diving goalie. The team continued to play hard, but was not able to get another score on the board.

Weldon is also focusing this year on the value of team play. He shared that it takes all 11 players to score and also all 11 players to defend the goal, and he was proud of how the entire team worked together for both games.

Forward Elle Svedin works on getting the ball past her Emmett defender during Weiser's first game of the season. It was a close match against a strong 4A school. Weiser scored the first goal off a top corner kick by Macy Maloney in the first half. Brooklyn Warner scored Weiser's final point to end the game. Kelly Crawford scored all three of Emmett's goals. The Wolverine football team dominated the game on Friday against Buhl taking a 41-7 win. Brett Spencer had seven completed passes out of 11 attempts. Two passes went to Bryce Crimin who scored two touchdowns and a pass to Brock Spencer put Weiser up in the first half 13-0. Willy Shirts kicked 3 extra points. Sam Kerner came in as quarterback for the fourth quarter and threw a pass to Carlos Arana for a 20 yard touchdown reception and the two point conversion gave Weiser the commanding victory. Weiser starts football season with 41-7 win against Buhl on Friday

Wolverines offense dominates the field with 146 yards passing and 239 yards rushing

by Katie von Brethorst

It has been almost five months since our community has been able to attend a sporting event at the high school level. All of that changed last week at the high school.

Friday night at Roy Dickerson Memorial Field, the Weiser Wolverines took on the Buhl Indians in the football opener for the year. This was a great game for the Wolverines, defeating the Indians 41-7 and setting the tone for the year.

Weiser started out well marching the ball down and scoring off a 12 yard reception from quarterback Brett Spencer to Bryce Crimin.

Filling some large shoes this year, Willy Shirts took over for Angel Magana and kicked the extra point for the Wolverines to give them seven points on the scoreboard.

Buhl was unable to match those points during the first quarter and Weiser again scored on a pass from Brett Spencer to Brock Spencer for another 12-yard reception and touchdown. Brock Spencer, a freshman, went man to man against the Buhl defender and pulled down a well thrown ball. The extra point got away from the Wolverines, but brought the score to 13-0 half-way through the second quarter.

Weiser's defense held the Indians scoreless the first half of the game allowing the offense to work their game plan.

Late in the second quarter, Brett Spencer connected once again with a great pass to senior Bryce Crimin for a 28 yard touchdown followed by another extra point kick by Willy Shirts.

Going into halftime, the Wolverines had the lead 20-0.

During the third quarter, Brett Spencer decided to take the ball himself for a quick 5 yard rushing touchdown.

This time, Buhl responded with their quarterback, Drexler Jaynes moving through and breaking tackles to rush for a 53-yard touchdown. Buhl got the extra point and got on the scoreboard at 26-7.

In the fourth quarter, Weiser marched the length of the field and at the one yard line; senior Beau Shields got the call to push the ball in for a touchdown. Willy Shirts added the extra point and then it was the defense's turn to keep the Indians from scoring.

Weiser would add another 20 yard reception for a touchdown from Sam Kerner to Carlos Arana late in the game. Levi Estes got the carry on a 2 point conversion and took the ball in 3 yards for a final score of 41-7.

Weiser's offense dominated the game with 146 yards passing and 239 yards rushing.

Jack Burke once again showed his dominance with 45 yards. He was in good company with Brett Spencer with 48 yards, Michael Youngberg with 50 yards, Freshman Brock Spencer completed a 12 yard pass reception from big brother Brett Spencer for Weiser's second touchdown in the second quarter. Weiser's total offensive yardage was 385 yards. The defense worked hard holding the Buhl Indians to only 202 total offensive yards. Weiser's next game will be against 4A Emmett on Friday on the Huskies home field.

and Willy Shirts with 56 yards.

Weiser's defense did a phenomenal job of holding Buhl to just 202 offensive yards.

Notable tackles were made by many Wolverines including Eric Torres, Dayton Turrentine, Jesse Lockett, Rylee Willet, Beau Shields, and Elijah Carter.

Coach Tom Harrison was happy with the level of performance from his team. "Number one, it's a great day when we can actually compete in a football game, and number two, it's even better when everyone can play. We got everybody in and that means that our offense and defense did the work that they needed to do," Coach Harrison said.

"It was just a really good feeling to be on the field with people in the stands and on the hill and I am happy that our boys played well," Harrison added.

This Friday, the Wolverines will travel to Emmett and face the Huskies, a team that Harrison knows well, having coached there for three years prior to Weiser High School.

"We definitely want to compete against Emmett this next week. They are a 4A team that I know well and they have some good guys that will give us a good fight. I am looking forward to it," Head Coach Harrison stated.

Game against Emmett on Friday will be limited seating with only 150 entrance tickets allotted to Weiser

Friday, the WHS football team will head to Emmett for their second game of the 2020 season.

Emmett has notified the Weiser School District that based on Gem County's current health alert level from Southwest District Health and the layout of their football complex, they will have to limit the number of people that will be allowed to attend Friday's game.

Weiser has been allotted 150 entrance tickets for distribution to parents, students, and patrons wanting to attend.

The first opportunity for tickets will be provided to the parents/guardians and immediate families of student-athletes playing in the game. After families have had a chance to request tickets, if there are any tickets still available, they will be available to the students and patrons on a first come, first served basis. Ticket(s) must be presented to the ticket booth in Emmett Friday evening to gain entry. People who show up Friday evening without a ticket will not be admitted into the game. Payment for attendance must still be made at the ticket booth after presenting your ticket(s).

Friday's game will also be live streamed through www.idahosports.com. The cost to view the stream will be $5.
