

Class of 2020

The background of the page features a vibrant sunset or sunrise sky with a gradient from blue at the top to yellow and orange near the horizon. Silhouettes of several graduates are shown from the chest up, their arms raised in celebration. They are throwing their black graduation caps into the air. The caps are captured at various heights and angles, some with the tassels visible. The overall mood is one of triumph and accomplishment.

Your trusted news source since 1882!

The Weiser High School cheerleaders are not only champions at the 3A district competition, they are also champions academically in the classroom. For the fifth year, the WHS cheer squad had the best total GPA among 3A schools, an honor that was given by the Idaho High School Activities Association. In March, the WHS cheerleaders won their 12th straight district championship. Unfortunately, the cheerleaders did not get the opportunity to defend their title this year at the 3A state championships. Due to the coronavirus pandemic, all spring sports and activities were cancelled by the IHSAA, ending what could have been another championship season.

Class of 2020 recognized for achievements at awards ceremony

The seniors in the graduating Class of 2020 at Weiser High School were honored for their achievements and the many scholarships they earned at the annual awards ceremony on May 7.

While the setting may be different this year, with a video tribute instead of the live awards show in the auditorium, the one constant that never changes is everyone coming together to celebrate the accomplishments of students at WHS.

The spring of the senior year is typically a time of celebration, but due to the unforeseen circumstances surrounding the coronavirus pandemic the spring of 2020 has been anything but typical, principal Dave Davies said.

He urged every senior to look for new ways to celebrate one another and to bring joy and excitement in the final chapter of their educational career at Weiser High School.

Students were asked to consider the words of Helen Keller as they prepare to celebrate graduation with countless other seniors who are without a doubt struggling with similar emotions.

“When one door of happiness closes, another opens, and often we look so long at the closed door we do not see the one which has been opened for us,” he said

“I encourage all to press on with your eyes wide open, open to the possibilities that await you,” he said.

Davies extended a huge thank you to all of the scholarship sponsors. Their generosity serves as a wonderful reminder that kindness matters and that service to others should be our priority. Their continued support of students at Weiser High School is greatly appreciated.

“I hope all of you enjoy this video tribute that was made possible through countless hours of effort on your behalf and once again congratulations and remember it is a great day to be a Wolverine,” Davies said.

The Weiser High School Choir sang the national anthem following the opening remarks, and then it was time to introduce the awards and scholarships earned by seniors for their efforts in the classroom and on the field of sports.

The Automotive Excellence Award was given by auto shop instructor Kip Hicks to Kayden Joseph Sylvia and Christopher James Thien. The award is given to a student with strong work ethic, positive character and the will to succeed.

The Microsoft Office Specialist top 10 highest certification scores for the fall of 2019 went to Andrea Bouvia, Eileen Froshiesar, Morgan Brunson, Clayton Moore, Chelise Walker, Morgan Dodson, Kate Yoon, Danyelle Pauni, Grace Soulen and Isabel Rodriguez.

WHS students who completed the CS121 class through Boise State University included Garrick Carroll, Abel Juarez, Emily Sanchez, Travis Schimmel, Nathan Turner and Koen Webb.

The following students completed the course requirements for AP Statistics: Garrick Carroll, Riata Chandler, Remington Reese, Grace Soulen, Emberlee Thomas, Chelise Walker and Katelynn Young.

Merci Vargas was honored as the yearbook editor of the year for her work on the yearbook. She is the senior editor and has helped create the yearbook for three years.

“She is the most awesome editor we have had. She took pictures, created ideas and worked hard to create the yearbook for three years in a row,” said yearbook adviser Trish Shirts.

She also created and won the IHSAA Battle of the Fans and won for small schools this year. The credit for the excitement goes out to the WHS students, but behind the scene, editing, creating, adding music...Merci won.

The Wolverine Scoop editors were recognized by Rebecca Gonzales, who said she was proud of their accomplishments.

“Thank you for all of your hard work and creativity in making the Wolverine Scoop such a fantastic scholastic newspaper,” she said.

Gonzales said she can’t wait to see what Scoop editors Merci Vargas and Yerika Marquez do after high school. To next year’s Scoop editors, Angela Hayden and Kali Branstetter, she said, “you have big shoes to fill next year.”

The Dave Overacker award was presented to Travis Schimmel for his carpentry skills and Logan Ankarberg, Ethan Davis, Ander Barbot and Luke Johnson for their winning robot in the VEX robotics competition. The awards were presented by teacher Jon Lundberg.

The coaches at WHS present an award to a top male and female athlete each year. This year’s 2020 Coaches Choice award went to Matthew Morris and Andrea Bouvia.

The annual Joe Dickerson Heart of a Wolverine Award is given to seniors who show outstanding character and heart. This year’s recipients were Tim Reed for football and Matt Morris for wrestling.

The Idaho High School Activities Association Interscholastic STAR Scholarship recipient for 3A in 2019 went to Layton Tolman. The 2020 nominees were Logan Ankarberg and Alyssa Olvera was a 3A finalist.

The WHS cheerleading squad was recognized as being the IH-SAA academic state champions among 3A schools. This is the fifth year they have received this prestigious award.
